

If this is printed to scale this box should be 1 inch by 8 inches. It should be correct if you print "actual size" or 100% scale. Don't worry if it says that some of the document may be cut off, The tip end is the important end.

Belts should be measured from the fold (middle of the bag punch) to the middle hole. Waste sizes will vary depending on buckles, and pant styles, so it is best to measure their current belt fold to the hole that they use. It is good practice to always work with belts fold to your left and tip to the right. This becomes very important when tooling belts with names.
